

MICRO ALGAE

How can you scale up
your microalgae production?

Decentralise it!

Just like in the dairy industry, producers grow their microalgae using the REALM cultivation system at different greenhouses. Next, they deliver the biomass to a central production facility. From there, cost-effective algal products find their way to consumers.

Find out more: www.realmalgae.eu

Funded by the European Union